A SCHOOL QUESTION.

State Superintendent of Instruction Young has rendered a decision in the matter of the Chinese child (born in China) who desired to attend the public school at Columbus, Esmeralda county, and to whom objection was made by some of the white parents. He says there is no authority for excluding any children from the public schools; that all are entitled to the same privileges, irrespective of race or color. Mr. Young bases his opinion upon the broad ground that the genius of American institutions favors the education of all children who are reared here, whether born in this country or not. He quotes a great many authorities in support of his decision. The State Superintendent of California recently decided this question exactly the other way.

If Captain Kelly of the whaler-ship "Ligeretta" had tried up the mutinous sailor Madden and beat him nearly to death with a rope's end, instead of shooting him dead, he would not have been so quickly exonerated as he has been. There would probably have been a howl about cruelty to sailors, and the Captain's year's wages would have been spent to defend himself in a U. S. Court.

The Continentals, a New Orleans military company, participated in the parade at Boston on the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. Thus do the lion and the lamb lie down together, as it were.

A Dam Breaks and Does Much Damage.

NEVADA CITY, June 18.

At 5 o'clock this morning the central section of the English dam of the Milton Hydraulic Mining Company, containing 650,000,000 cubic feet of water, broke, and the water went rushing down the channel of the Middle Yuba in an irresistible flood, sweeping away everything in its path. The roar of the rushing waters could be heard for many miles distant. Those who witnessed the moving waters say that the surface of the river was fully 100 feet higher than at low water mark. Along the banks of the river lived the Reese brothers, an old man named William Sherwood and about 20 Chinamen. Their fate is in doubt. It is not known whether they managed to escape or not. Freeman's toll bridge, between North San Juan and Camancheville, although 40 miles below where the dam broke, was washed away as if it had been made of paper.

San Francisco Intelligence.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.

Charges of bribery preferred against Special Agent of the Treasury Evans are being investigated before the United States Grand Jury to-day; also charges against James Harkins of complicity in a big opium smuggling case.

The California Steam Navigation Company's boat yesterday began connecting with the San Joaquin and Sierra Nevada railroad, running between Brack's and Wallace, via Lodi. The movement is owing to increased railroad business.

J. B. Harris, late Superintendent of construction of the Oregon and California railroad, has sailed for Central America, to take charge of the railroad construction under the Stanford-Crocker-Huntington combination.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Nearly Completed.

PORTLAND, June 19.

The traffic department of the Northern Pacific received a telegram to-day that the company has commenced receiving and billing freight through from St. Paul to Helena, Montana. The track was finished to-day from the eastern end to a point 11 miles west of Helena, and on the western end to a point within 10 miles of Missoula, leaving a gap of 10 miles.

The Senate has ordered paid to Walter Shanley $79,500 on account of losses occasioned in the construction of the Hoosac tunnel. He asked for $130,000.

A Sale of Uncle Sam's old Rotten Hulks.

WASHINGTON, June 19.

Chandler will this week advertise 23 naval vessels for sale to the highest bidder above appraisement. This is in accordance with an Act of Congress. These vessels have been examined by the Board of Inspectors and their report has been approved by the Secretary of the Navy and Congress. The total cost of these vessels was about twenty million dollars. None of them are useful for any naval purpose, except a few which are used as barracks and coal hulks, and the board pronounce them dangerous even for these purposes. This is a remarkable commentary upon the management of the navy. There are not, with few exceptions, as old as the ante-war ships. The oldest was built in 1814, but only ten were constructed before the war. The rest have been built since 1861. Eighteen were built between 1863 and 1867. The timbers in some of them, which have never had a deck plank laid, are rotten.

California Fruit in Chicago—The First of the Season.

CHICAGO, June 19.

A Chicago firm yesterday received the first car-load of California fruit that has reached here this season. The car was attached to a passenger train, and the fruit—apricots, peaches and pears—arrived in fine condition. Freight charges from Sacramento to Chicago were $339. Notwithstanding the cold weather that until recently prevailed, this is the earliest arrival of a car-load of California fruit for several years. One of the disadvantages that California fruit-growers have to contend with is the high freight charged by the railroads. They cannot ship their fruit east of the Rocky Mountains at a profit, and they are now endeavoring to induce railroad companies to give them fast fruit trains at the same rates that are charged for carrying fruit by slow freight trains.

A Flood in Kansas—Two Families Drowned.

SENECA, June 18.

News regarding the storm on Saturday came in to-day. All the big streams in the county are overflowed. There is scarcely a bridge but what is damaged or carried away. At Backerford Thomas Atkins and family attempted to leave his home, which was threatened with destruction by water, and take with him Mr. Barari, wife and children. There were eight in the wagon, which was caught in the current of Turkey creek and upset. Seven of the party were drowned. Mrs. Barari alone escaped. She lodged in a tree, but was rescued 14 hours afterward. Her baby was washed from her arms and drowned. Only one of the other bodies has yet been recovered.

Short and Sweet—A Lively Mill Between Two Miners.

STEVENSVILLE, O., June 18.

A prize fight, short but terrible, was fought yesterday afternoon in Collier township, fifteen miles from this city, between Tom Duffy, Superintendent of the Cherry Hill mines, and Peter Murphy, a miner. Both are young men, and weigh about 175 pounds each. Five rounds were fought. Murphy was whipped and terribly pounded. Three hundred spectators were present. The affair wound up in a riot.

A Returned Absconder.

ST. LOUIS, June 19.

Judge Chester H. Krum will publish a statement to-morrow showing that his administration of the Ford estate was correct and proper. Regarding his protracted absence from the city, he says he left town for a particular purpose, which he does not explain, but which he says his friends fully approve. He has returned home with the design of continuing the practice of law.

Too Late in the Day.

CHICAGO, June 18.

United States Circuit Judge McCrary's opinion in the case of the Philbrook heirs, who claim ownership of land on which nearly all the city is built, was received to-day. He decides that whatever original merit claimants had, they slept too long on their rights and are now without remedy.

Canadian Punishment for Thieving Indians.

WINNEPEG, June 19.

Corporal Wild and six northwest mounted police brought in 11 Indians of the Cree nation last night from the end of the Canadian Pacific Railroad track, convicted of horse-stealing near Fort Walsh on the American frontier. They go to the penitentiary for two years.

The Missouri River Above High Water Mark.

ST. LOUIS, June 19.

The river gauge last night marked 31 feet 11 inches, which is 22 inches above the danger line. Nearly the entire surface of the levee along the river front is submerged, and steamers find it difficult to load and discharge cargoes. All the cellars in the business houses along the levees are filled with water. A rise of another foot will inundate the first floors of most of the stores. No damage is reported, as all goods have been removed to a safe place. The lumber yards along the river are threatened, but so far no property has been seriously harmed. It is expected the rise will reach 35 feet at this point, which will be higher than for several years.

The Trial of the Missouri Bandit Postponed.

GALLATIN, June 18.

The trial of Frank James which was set for to-day, is postponed until to-morrow on account of the absence of the defendants' attorneys, owing to washouts and delayed trains. A large crowd assembled to witness the opening of the trial.

A Negro Detective Shot.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., June 19.

After Cabell, a colored detective, had concluded his testimony in the trial yesterday, and was leaving the courtroom, he was attacked by a party of colored men and shot in the leg. The Marshal interfered and saved his life. No arrests were made.

A Destructive Storm in Ohio.

CLEVELAND, June 18.

A severe storm visited Millersburg this afternoon and tore out the corner of the court-house, leaving the edifice unsafe. It also tore up numerous trees, unroofed several houses, and the accompanying hail did great damage to crops in that region.

Donald Dinnie, the Scotch athlete, exposed his legs at the depot this morning. He was accompanied by D. A. McMillan, a wrestler from Bodie, who flopped Dinnie into the mud several times at San Francisco last Sunday. They go to Denver to hippodrome at the Scotch games that are to come off there next Saturday. Muldoon made it very warm for Dinnie, though the latter is a much larger man, but he hasn't the artistic twinkle possessed by the New Yorker.

Glad Tidings.

Persons just in from Surprise report having met a party going into the valley with the welcome news that the men who had for six weeks been at work in a claim at Cottonwood belonging to Cressler Bros., Haines, Nickerson and Drouillard, had struck it rich. They exhibited some very fine ore and claimed to have lots of it. Their trip to Surprise was to spread the glad tidings and to procure teams to haul to Reno a few tons to be worked at some place convenient. The same party reports that quite an excitement had been kicked up at Varyville—that several had gone there from Surprise Valley, and that a smelter had been ordered for the camp. Copper appears to predominate.

Something Concerning the Death of John McKenna.

John McKenna, who was drowned in Walker Lake last week, was very much intoxicated when he went into the water, and it is thought he was seized with a cramp. He drowned where the water was less than three feet deep. His friends thought he was only playing, having no idea he was struggling, as he was an expert swimmer. He was a man of more than ordinary ability. He leaves a wife and four lovely daughters in Oakland, Cal., to mourn his loss.

Carson Visitors.

The Tribune says that several Carsonites are coming to Reno tomorrow evening to attend the musical entertainment to be given at the Opera House by the pupils of Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls.

Nothing build, up shattered constitutions so quickly as Brown's Iron Bitters.

OUR RED BROTHERS.

The Noble Red Men in Procession—They Cannot Agree Upon a Chief.

Last Saturday, says the Silver State, the Piutes paraded the streets, keeping time to the tap of a drum. The procession was brought to a halt at the depot by Naches, who acted as Marshal, and formed in the form of a segment of a circle, in the center of which 12 stalwart Bannocks, whose scalp locks were adorned with feathers, and whose bodies were wrapped in blankets, though the mercury was up in the nineties, stood in a line as closely as they could conveniently get, and at a signal from Naches swayed their bodies right and left and chanted a war-song, winding up with a whoop that made excitable passengers on the express train, which was the depot at the time, run to the cars for safety.

Naches delivered a speech in English, in which he stated that the Bannocks, as well as the Piutes, desired to live at peace with the whites, but also, like the Piutes, detested reservations. At the close of his remarks, the procession reformed in line and marched to the Indian camping grounds across the river, where the red men amused themselves and astonished spectators with various kinds of dances during the afternoon and evening.

The Bannocks, who appear to be a branch of the Piute tribe, as they speak the same language, were entertained in a large wick-up by Naches, and other prominent Piutes, while the Shoshone visitors, had to provide for themselves as best they could. Nearly six hundred Indians were camped there, and it was remarked by many that if they should get into their heads to take to the war path they could massacre every settler between the Central Pacific Railroad and Boise City, Idaho, before troops or volunteers could be brought into the field against them.

Johnson Slides informs a GAZETTE reporter that it is not probable that a chief will be elected this year, as the Piutes cannot agree upon a successor to old Winnemucca. The various captains will exercise the functions of chief and dispose of all the extra rations obtainable. Captain Dave of Pyramid was talked of, but he is so contented on the reservation that he would not go any great distance to attend to tribal business. Natches knows too much, and would set himself up as dictator, while the oldest son of Winnemucca is too arbitrary to be popular. They will wait till some influential candidate comes to the front, and then they will make him chief.

Johnson came in from Winnemucca last night, and feels well satisfied with the results of the grand conclave at Winnemucca. Johnson is probably the most intelligent Indian on the coast. There are many white men who know less of national affairs. Speaking of General Crook, he says (correcting his broken English): "Crook is a bold man. He put himself in the power of the most treacherous of all Indians, and they did not betray his confidence. That's right. When you tell an Indian you will do a thing, do it. Then he will have confidence in you. The Apaches knew that if they stuck to their agreement he would stick to his, and that is the way he conquered them." Johnson says the story of the Piutes and Bannocks going on the war-path in Harney Valley is all moonshine, but if they really wanted to go to war they could put 500 well-armed warriors in the field in a few days, and make it very hot for Uncle Sam. He says the Piutes are much better fighters than Apaches. The proof of this is that many years ago the Arizona Indians invaded this section of country in large numbers and were mercilessly slaughtered—hardly one of them escaped, and from that day to this they have kept their distance.

Sierra Valley Notes.

J. Stiner came in from Sierra Valley yesterday. He says the grasshoppers are very numerous at Adams Neck and are doing much damage to the hay crop. Mr. Stiner thinks one-half the crop will be destroyed. The grain crop will be very light.

The dairymen are making more butter this year than ever before. Nearly the entire population of the valley will spend the Fourth at Beckworth.

Justice's Court.

Mrs. Simmons, a resident of the district known as "Lake's Flat-iron," was called into Judge Young's Court this morning, tried and found guilty of disturbing the peace. Mrs. S. was fined $40, or the alternative of twenty days in jail. Not having the coin at her immediate command she was sent over the river.

Industry.

On the corner of Sierra and Sixth streets the Burke brothers have nearly completed a very fine two-story brick building, designed as a residence for themselves. When completed it will be second to none in Reno, every thing being first class as regards the material used and labor performed.

Brick Work.

Attention is called to the advertisement of P. and J. Burke, bricklayers and stone-masons. Messrs. Burke have the reputation of invariably giving entire satisfaction in all work in their line, and will promptly attend to any order sent them.

MT. ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.

Commencement Exercises at this Excellent Institution.

The examination of studies at Mt. St. Mary's Academy commenced at 9 o'clock this morning. The primary departments occupied an hour or so, and, considering that they were the observed of all observers, the pupils acquitted themselves remarkably well. Two of the more advanced classes passed a creditable examination in a few studies. The two young lady graduates were examined in mathematics, physiology, civil government, etc., which closed the morning examination.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon classes reassembled, and the examination was continued until the young lady graduates and the advanced classes were all examined in their various studies. The examination this afternoon was conducted by Rev. Father Tormy of Carson and Rev. Father Reilly of Reno, both of whom, together with the interested audience, pronounced the result as most creditable to the young lady pupils and their teachers. This evening the entertainment will be held at the Academy Hall, commencing at 7:30. Admission one dollar. Tickets can be had at the Convent gate.

SCIENCE BAFLED.

The Day of Miracles Not Yet Passed.

The New York Morning Journal says that Mrs. F. G. Kellogg, living at 50 East 86th street, in that city, was partially paralyzed by being poisoned, as alleged, by a servant. She lay for seven days in convulsions, and although she employed the best medical skill, her case baffled their best endeavors. One physician after another was engaged and discharged, until seven different doctors had tried to cure or help her and failed. She spent four weeks at a health lift, but her case remained a problem which could not be solved. She was unable to leave her bed, and was as helpless as a child, not being able to use her hands. Her body was in a paralyzed condition and her death was looked for at any time. Salves, ointments, lotions, plasters, and in fact, nearly everything indorsed by the leading pharmacists were tried until her case was at last given up as hopeless. At last, reading of the wonderful cures credited to the use of the celebrated St. Jacobs Oil, she was induced to try a bottle as a last hope. She began to improve from the time the first application was made. By the continued use of this Great German Remedy Mrs. Kellogg has completely recovered.

ANOTHER WONDER.

An editorial from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch says: One such remarkable case has just come to the notice of a reporter of this paper, who having been informed of the wonderful cure of Mrs. Phoebe Rice, 1208 Madison street, a sister of Hon. H. Clay Sexton, Chief of the St. Louis Fire Department, visited that lady at her residence. She was very enthusiastic in her commendations of the pain-relieving and curative powers of St. Jacobs Oil, which she said had accomplished more for her in a few weeks than all the other remedies the physicians had recommended in the past seven years. Mrs. Rice made her statement without the least reluctance, and very cheerfully said that for the past seven years she had been a sufferer from acute inflammatory rheumatism, which had affected the muscles of her hands, contracting them so badly she could not comb her hair, hold a needle or pick up a pin, and rendered the lower limbs so helpless she required crutches to move about. During ten months she was obliged to carry the right hand in a sling. Physicians were called in, but gave her only temporary relief. Some time ago one of her children was afflicted with a contraction of the muscles of the lower jaw, which turned her mouth to one side; a few applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored the features to their natural conditions, and Mrs. Rice began to look hopefully towards it for her own cure. A single application, she said, made her a firm believer in its virtues, as the effect was instantaneous and she was greatly benefited. The continued use of it brought her to the happy condition in which the reporter saw her, with the free use of her limbs and in perfect health, cured. She can now run up and down stairs, she said, and her hands were so useful, in every respect, as they had been before she began to suffer, seven years ago. "God bless St. Jacobs Oil," the good lady exclaimed as the reporter was about to leave. Mrs. Rice has lived in this city 30 years, and her statement, worthy of all credence, is fully corroborated by her friends and neighbors, and by her own children, who were fully cognizant of her helpless condition before she began to use the wonderful remedy.

BETTER THAN GOLD.

An editorial in the Washington, D. C., Post says: Public confidence in a thing to be gained only upon irrefragable proof of what you profess yourself to be, or upon undeniable testimony to what is claimed to be done. This is what the press calls bottom facts, and in this vein the Baltimore Herald under the above caption says: "The familiar phrase passing from mouth to mouth in Baltimore, as a public voice, has resolved itself into the exclamation: 'It conquers pain.' A reporter of the Herald, therefore, bent upon an investigation into the merits of the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, about which there seems to be a genuine sensation, was sent out to search and find whether it does or does not conquer pain as claimed. The reporter's attention having been drawn to the miraculous cure of Major B. S. White, salesman of Witz, Biedler & Co., a gallant soldier, who won his spurs in the Confederate service on the staff of Gen. Jeb. Stuart, the Major on being found said that he had been sought out by a great many inquiring friends and reporters, and he could only repeat what he had said in a letter to the Charles A. Vogelzang Company, to which he referred the news-gatherer, and which reads as follows: 'I cannot better describe my feelings than by saying that I have been a partially dead man for the past 10 years. What is commonly called a sleepy or dead arm or leg, was the feeling with me, which commenced at the top of my head down the spinal column and pervaded my limbs to the tips of my fingers and toes. My flesh was cold and lifeless. Doctors attributed my sufferings to the enlargement of certain glands; others declared that knots had formed along the spinal column, interfering with the circulation of the blood. The quantity of medicine I took without relief would be sufficient to set up a first-class apothecary shop. I tried Turkish and electric baths, and certain pills prepared for rheumatism and gout, but they gave only temporary relief. Finally St. Jacobs Oil was recommended. On retiring at night I had my spinal column thoroughly rubbed with it. This was repeated several times, and, thank God, I feel like another man. All those knots, kinks and stiffness have passed away, and I am myself again. I have no hesitation in saying that for all acute local pains St. Jacobs Oil is a safe, certain and speedy remedy for man or beast.' This was one of the specimens, cures investigated by the Herald reporter.

No. 1 machines, the best to be found in the country, and will run (as heretofore) a prime, first-class shop. The enlargement of my stock and facilities will entail heavy extra expense, and I look and trust, therefore, to Reno's citizens and the people generally who are desirous of obtaining the very best of workmanship, to aid me with their increased patronage.
